ABOUT

Jen & the Foggy Creek Band blend Bluegrass, Irish, Folk, and Americana musical styles for a toe-tapping good time.

Front Woman Jen Fisher will be a familiar lead to audiences who may have seen her perform with previous bands including Sugar Shot, Finding Friday, and Good Night Gracie. She also enjoyed a successful solo career prior to joining bands and released an independent album of her original music. Much of her original music will be featured in the project and the sound is sure to delight music fans looking for something a little different.

Adding to the sound are John Warner on Banjo and Tommy Myers on bass both of whom are veteran players with a ton of talent. The band also adds percussion, mandolin, fiddle, and lead acoustic guitar when playing larger shows allowing for versatility and fun for audiences who will be treated to a wide variety of music ranging from current pop and rock songs with a bluegrass twist, underground Americana music that audiences will be able to connect to and enjoy, and of course original music which plays a huge role in the band's sound. Expect a fresh modern approach to roots music!
